

Clinical Epidemiology

© <https://epistatistics.com>

QUIZ 26

“You just peed on a pregnancy strip, and it was positive. What is the accuracy of that positive?” What is your statistic? What if your pee was negative? What statistic characterizes the accuracy of the negative?

What’s a representative sample? Alpha level? Effect size? Study power?

What’s the difference between probability sampling and non-probability sampling?

What is a pilot study (or “pilot testing”)?

What's one story of scientific fraud from the Ethical Data Collection and Study Reporting section?

Single and double blinding in research design. What are these?