QUIZ 27

"What predicts graduation rate at a U.S. university?" What statistical test is appropriate to answer this question?

You want to characterize the life of a veteran with a disability playing on a D1 sports team. What methodological approach is best?

You want to know about the predictors of lung cancer. What statistical test is appropriate to address this curiosity?

ANOVA. What is it? How is it different from a normal T-Test? What kind of research question calls for its use?